

GENDER ISSUES
IN ANIMAL TRACTION:
A HANDBOOK

Proceedings of the Gender in Animal Traction Workshop
Mbeya
Tanzania
1-5 June 1992

Edited by
Lotta Sylwander and Roger Mpande

November 1995

*A publication of ATNESA made possible with the assistance of
Canadian International Development Agency (CIDA), Zimbabwe
AGROTEC, Zimbabwe
Stockholm Group for Development Studies (SGDS), Sweden*

Editors notes and acknowledgements

The success of the workshop and the production of this report is the result of the combined efforts of various individuals and organisations. The editors would like to thank the following organisations and individuals on behalf of ATNESA, for the full support in the organisation of the workshop and the production of the proceedings.

The Mbeya Oxenization Project (MOP) for hosting such a successful workshop and sharing their experiences with the workshop participants. Special thanks go to Kathy Marshall for volunteering her services at the first ATNESA workshop, in January, 1992, on behalf of MOP.

The Canadian International Development Agency (CIDA) in Zimbabwe for funding the Zambian and Zimbabwean participants to the workshop and the workshop proceedings.

The Government of Tanzania and Mbeya local authorities for making it possible to hold the workshop in their country.

The local community of Mbeya region: women farmer groups, contact households and individuals, for valuable information offered on their experiences.

Various projects who spared their time in participating in the workshop and sharing their experiences and contributing in the discussions.

Jo Doran, UNIFEM-Zimbabwe, who worked on sourcing the funds for the workshop.

Stockholm Group for Development Studies, Krister Eduards, for his support to the editing work done in Sweden.

Luís Mexêdo, for photo and layout assistance.

Paul Starkey and Timothy Simalenga, ATNESA, for reviewing the manuscript, and helping with illustrations.

The editors would also like to apologize to CIDA and all others involved who have been waiting for this publication for some time. This unfortunate delay was caused by reasons beyond our control.

November, 1995

Acronyms and abbreviations

ADP	-	Animal Draft Power
ADP-Mbozi	-	Agricultural Development Programme - Mbozi
ADPP	-	Animal Draft Power Programme
ADT	-	Animal Drawn Technologies
AGRITEX	-	Agricultural, Technical and Extension Services (Zimbabwe)
AT	-	Animal Traction
ATC	-	Animal Traction Centres
ATNESA	-	Animal Traction Network for East and Southern Africa
CIDA	-	Canadian International Development Agency
CRDB	-	Cooperative and Rural Development Bank
DAP	-	Draught Animal Power
FEPU	-	Farmer's Education and Publicity Unit (Tanzania)
GAD	-	Gender and Development
GTZ	-	Deutsche Gesellschaft for Technische Zusammenarbeit GmbH, Germany
GI	-	Gender Issues
LEIA	-	Low External Input Agriculture
LC	-	Letters of Credits
MFIPRO	-	Mixed Farming Improvement Project (Tanzania)
MOP	-	Mbeya Oxenization Project (Tanzania)
NGO	-	Non-Governmental Organisation
OFR	-	On-Farm Research
OGIL	-	Open General Licence
OTCs	-	Oxen Training Centres
SDOL	-	Sexual Division of Labour
SIDA	-	Swedish International Cooperation and Development Agency
T&V	-	Training and Visit
ToR	-	Terms of Reference
UNDP	-	United Nations Development Programme
WID	-	Women in Development
VEW	-	Village Extension Worker

Contents

I	Introduction	5
	Who's job: gender and the use of animal draft power	5
II	Gender Planning and Animal Traction	8
	Kathy Marshall and Lotta Sylwander
	Why gender planning?	8
	Gender planning	9
	The concept of gender	10
	Gender roles	10
	Gender needs and interests	11
	Gender analysis tools	11
	Tool 1 Activity Profile/ Gender Roles Identification	12
	Tool 2 Access and Control Diagnosis	13
	Tool 3 Opportunities and Constraints	14
	Tool 4 Gender Needs and Interest Analysis	15
	Gender Entry Strategy and Planning	16
	Gender Planning Training	17
	Table 1 Activity profile	18
	Table 2 Access and control profile	19
	Table 3 Developing an organizational strategy and action plan	20
	Table 4	21
	Table 5	22
	Table 6	25
III	Gender Issues in Animal Traction Workshop	28
	Background	28
	Workshop Objectives	28
	Workshop programme	29
	Opening Addresses	29
	Workshop Methodology	29
	Developing an Organisational Strategy and Action Plan	31
	Objectives/Evaluation Indicators	31
	Developing strategy and action plans for projects	31
	Discussions of Workshop Theme	32
	Strategies to overcome main constraints	32
	Policy Strategy	32
	Field Visit	32
	Recommendations	34
IV	Women and animal traction in Mbeya region of Tanzania: a gender and development approach
	K. Marshall and M. Sizya	37
	Involvement of women in animal traction in Kaoma District, Zambia
	Andrew K. Muma	43
	Draft animal power technologies, their scope and relevance to women farmers in Tanzania
	Errine Tukae Njiku	47

Appendix I	ATNESA	52
Appendix II	ATNESA Steering Committee	53
Appendix III	List of Participants	54
Appendix IV	Evaluation of Workshop	56
	Evaluation Comments from MOP Organizers	59
Suggested Gender Planning	References	60